The tiny minikloden

This story is about special creatures called “minikloden”, who live in another planet called Kloden. They use their magic and extraordinary superpowers to come to earth every night to check on children and solve their problems. They disguise themselves so that nobody knows about their existence.

There was a little minikloden named Arol who lived in the paper trash. A paper trash is a place where unused documents and papers are thrown. He made a tiny, beautiful house using the colorful trash papers. He was very lonely because nobody notices him.

Naughty Rombo

In earth, there was a very naughty boy named Rombo who was very poor in studies. The queen of miniklodens felt a little sad for him because he used to get scolding frequently. She sent miniklodens to mix a special potion in his water which would make him good in studies. The next morning, he really became very good in studies. During the next three months, Rombo wondered everyday how that happened! He stayed awake many nights and one night he finally saw a flying minikloden and planned to make a trap for it. The next night when it finally came, Rombo pounced and quickly caught it. He peeked inside the minikloden's bag and found a magic wand and some dust in a bottle labeled "Amnesia dust". He kept both the items and let the minikloden go. He became so happy that he could not get a blink of sleep. He was cursed with a disease of sleeplessness!

The threat

The next day Rombo's father asked to clean his room but he did not clean it. As father started to scold him, Rombo splashed some amnesia dust on his father's face to see if that had any effect on him. Suddenly his father could not recollect why was he scolding and went away. Rombo realized that amnesia dust makes people forget things. He also discovered that he could get anything with the magic wand and started to misuse the wand to please himself. To show off, he disclosed about the miniklodens to his friends and parents which became a threat for them. The queen asked the miniklodens to find a way to resolve this problem. But nobody could find any solution. Arol was as usual not heard by anyone. So, he wrote the solution in a paper to give it to the queen. But he didn't know how he could give the paper to her. Meanwhile, the queen was looking for a lost document in the paper trash. She found the document but when she lifted the document, she saw a piece of paper attached to the document - with 'Arol' written on it. She turned over the paper to find something interesting. She became very happy because the solution to Rombo's problem was written on the paper. It said "Give away as many toys as you want to receive double the number of toys you gave". The queen sent guards to keep this chit under Rombo's pillow. Rombo read this message and was very happy. But Rombo did not know that a wand will get ruined if it starts producing more than thousand things.

Unique solution

The first day he gave away one toy and got 2 new toys. He kept doubling 2,4,8,16,32,64,128.... He became greedy and in no time, he reached the count of 1024 toys! The wand became corrupt and started raining fishes instead of toys!! When he commanded the wand to stop, it started raining burgers! The wand worked erroneously. Rombo pleaded 'this is the last time I am asking for toys'. It only gave one toy. Rombo understood that he had become greedy and the wand taught him a lesson. He was cured of the sleeplessness disease and he slept peacefully. That night the queen minikloden visited him and put some amesia dust on his face and took away the wand and the dust.

Hero of Klodenians

The Klodenians were very happy that the Queen could find a solution to the problem. It was time for the monthly assembly of the queen with her folks. The queen went on the stage and hesitantly started her speech “Umm..... I know you think that I was the one to find the solution to the problem, but actually, that wasn’t me.” Everybody gasped and one of the minikloden asked- “Then who solved it??” The queen said- “Arol”. People were shocked! She called Arol up to the stage. Arol suddenly became the Hero of the Klodenians. While most of them rejoiced his glory, a few were jealous too. But he definitely became the queen’s favorite because of his wit and modesty.

Rise of Arol

The queen was getting old and she has to find an heir who’s worthy of the position on the throne. She had three choices, Arol, Trocko or Mant. Trocko was very smart but he had lots of aggression cases. Mant had earned the minikloden of the year award for his smartness. But, both of them were a little snobbish. Mant and Trocko said “We are sure Arol is going to lose”. The queen was confused about who should be the king. She wanted the smartest and most honest one as the king. She decided to hold a competition and the winner would be declared king. The next morning the queen asked them to make a jacket made of water but they cannot use their magical powers. They have one whole month to do this. Trocko and Mant thought how is this possible but still tried to make it. But Arol was smarter, he just took this as a vacation. After one month, all of them came without anything in their hand. The queen asked politely 'Where are the jackets?' Trocko said he could not make it and Mant said the same. The queen said, 'What about you Arol?' He said- "I would need a needle made of fire to do this if you want a jacket of water". The queen smiled and said I will announce the king tomorrow. Everybody was excited. The queen decided all of them are honest but Arol would make the best king because his response was smart whereas the other two contestants were disappointed with themselves for not being able to make the jacket. Arol didn't say he couldn't make the jacket instead he tricked her. He indeed was the smartest of all. The next day she cleared her throat and said- "The king is ..... Arol!" Arol had a smile on his face like always. The queen gave him the mike. Arol spoke calmly and confidently to the queen and the Klodenians "I will never let anything bad happen to the minikloden factory. I will never consider myself above others because it does not matter who the leader is, what matters is working together as a team." Everyone gave a huge round of applause. And Arol was now counted as the best minikloden king of all times.

The End
