Chapter 1-

Introduction

Once there lived the mystery masters. They were a group of nine-ten year olds who had formed a society named the mystery masters, they were Ayush with Milky the terrier, Misha, Ananya, Rishima and Papia, all of them lived in the charming village of Sarjapur. One day they went for a walk in the Jungle of Jungles but there was a reason the forest was called the jungle of Jungles.

chapter 2-

The jungles and mysterious illness

there were jungles of all kinds and of all kinds as some of them were very unfriendly but looked modern like the tribe of the tigers- they were very protective of their children and would throw rocks and stones if other tribes or people went next to their part of the jungle. Then there were the elephant tribes who wore clothes made out of animal skin and did not look very modern but were very kind, they always shared and cared for everyone and everything around them.

Now let's get back to the mystery masters. As they continued walking Misha heard something moving in the bushes, as she looked in the bushes she saw it was a poor little kitten trapped in it! Now this is suspicious said Papiya how could a cute little kitten like you get in the middle of this place?

Soon after they returned home, papiya ran and called her mother, she said- "mother I found this little kitten in the midst of nowhere!" So mother said "why this is the old kitten who lives with the old woman in the outskirts of Sarjapur, but she will not be pleased to see her pet like this" Then suggested Papiya can't we cure it and then return it to its owner? Okay mother said.

As the days passed by, one morning Ayush got out of bed yawning but to his surprise there were red bumps all over his body, called his mother and she said "Ayush did you go to the forest that day when Misha found the kitten in the bush? Yes said Ayush truthfully. Oh Ayush Misha is also down with the same illness. I will have to take you to the hospital with Misha. As mother was speaking Ayush could hear an argument going on in the main street. They said no we will meet at the barn on a foggy night, no we will meet at the old load-house where the trains are loaded

The letters

As mother stopped talking Ayush asked "can I write a letter to Rishima and Ananya?" "Oh why not" said mother. So Aysuh wrote-

Dear Ananya and Rishima,

Its actually been lonely since I am down with some rashes so can you come over and see me?

This morning when mother was talking to me, I heard an argument going on the road below my room, can you go on a foggy night and check it out. The argument was-

There were two people and they were arguing about where to meet, one said that they will meet at the old barn while the other said that they will meet on a foggy night at the load house of the train station.

Please check this out as the days passed by Ayush got a reply, it was-

Dear Ayush

We have received your letter and we have made arrangements to go today at 8 pm.

Get well soon

With love Ananya and Rishima.

Chapter 4-

The investigation and findings.

As 8pm struck the two left. It was a dark and foggy night. They walked quietly and slowly, soon they reached the old barn, as they edged closer to the barn house, they heard a sudden tinkling sound. Now this is mysterious. As they carefully searched the front court-yard they still did not find anything! But still they searched searched and searched.

Now it was getting late.

Then soon later Ananya found something! It was a small hole which leaded down to some room next to the barn.

They called Milky and told her not to go out of sight. They found a rope leading downwards to the room, they followed it and they could not believe their eyes and what was in front of them. It was bags bags and bags of gold, silver and lead!

Chapter 5

THE INSPECTOR

As soon as they got home, they found good news! All the ill people were fine now. So, the next night all of them went and saw the room and were amazed. The next day was a Saturday and the last day for the mystery. That morning a meeting was held and they went to the room and about their luck they found the diary of the thief, his name was Aditya. After all of them returned home they had a wonderful story to tell to all the amazed parents and they called an inspector.

After about five minutes the INSPECTOR and some police constables arrived.

And the five told them everything and showed the police the secret room. And when the police were told his name was Aditya they said "wow this is the robber on the top of the wanted list" Good work mystery masters! When the police thoroughly searched the whole room they found a passage that led to another room Aditya's bedroom. And for top luck they found Aditya himself! But the mysterious illness still remains.

Blurb

Once upon a time there lived a group of 6 BFFs including their dog. They were known as the mystery masters and they were on a case, will they succeed?

About the author

She is a fun-loving girl with wild ideas but at times very lazy and off track like her mother. She is all to herself and her puppy Neo. Apart from writing and reading she plays key-board and violin and sings western and Indian music. She is warm and kind in nature, and end of the day is mama's girl.
